The stock speculation to-day first halted and later renewed the liquidation which was interrupted by yesterday's operations. The transactions, which amounted to 455,274 shares (against 605,- 793 shares yesterday), show the usual predominance of a few stocks, and the manipulation which has become so open as to elicit general comment both in and out of the Stock Exchange. Four stocks contributed 243,000 shares-considerably more than one-half of to-day's total business. As usual,

Delaware, Lackawanna and Western led in the number of shares; up to 1:30 o'clock the recorded transactions were over 87,000 shares within a range of 58 per cent-130@13038@12934. After that there were transactions in 20,000 shares and a decline to 12918@12914 against 130 on last evening.

The transactions in the sister stock-Delaware and Hudson-amounted only to 150 shares, and it closed as it did on last evening at 1101g. Central of New-Jersey is almost alone among the active stocks in recording any material advance on yesterday's figures. It sold up to 797s, but after transactions of 34,300 shares, it closed at 783g-14 higher than yesterday's . last figure. Union Pacific, the stock which is second in the number of shares (57,300) dealt in to-day, developed weakness from the opening and declined from 9914@9938 to 9714

St. Paul common, on the publication of its earnings for the second week in April, enjoyed a spurt of 12 per cent to 10412; but after transactions in 43,800 snares, its last figure-10334-is 14 lower than it was on last evening. Central Pacific developed weakness and, with moderate sales (19,300 shares), it declined from 783s to 764@763. Northwestern common stock was not as erratic as it was yesterday and its price steadily but slowly declined from 136% to 134%@ 1347s. Hannibal and St. Joseph stocks were exceptionally strong on reports, which probably are

THE COURTS.

THE STAR ROUTE CASES. READY FOR ARGUMENT IN THE TRIAL-KELLOGG AND BRADY INDICTED.

WASHINGTON, April 18. - In the Star Route trial this morning Mr. Bliss called John A. Walsh and asked if he had ever had any money transactions with Brady. Mr. Bliss called attention to Brady's denial upon this point, and offered to contradict him. He then related the alleged facts set out in the published affidavit related the alleged racis set out in the published amidsvir of Price, that in the summer of 1890, after the passage of the Star Route Deficiency Appropriation bill, Price had been approached by A. H. Brown and requested to subscribe $5,000 to the fund raised by the Star Route contractors to defray the expenses attendant upon the passage of that bill; that Price had a large quantity of nnemployed stock, and had subscribed the money upon a promise that he should be given certain service in reture, and that the money and drafts so subscribed by Price had been placed upon Brady's desk. He would Price had been placed upon Brady's cest. He would prove, he said, that Brady had passed to Walsh the drafts given to him by Proc. He also offered to prove that Brady had requested the witness to deposit a certain sum of money to his credit, and that Walsh accordingly and placed $10,000 with Hatch & Foote, of New-York to Brade's cradit. York, to Brady's credit.

Objection was made by the defence, and after bearing arguments, the Court overruled the offer. Mr. Merrick thereupon stated that the Government's rebuttal was closed, and counsel for the d fence announced that they were through. A discussion arose respecting the character and order of the arguments, and the Court decided to withhold a decision until to-morrow.

While the discussion was in progress, the Grand Jury

While the discussion was in progress, the Grand Jury came in and returned indictments as follows:

Against William Pitt Kellogz, for receiving money while Senator for services rendered in relation to a contract with the United States; witnesses John A. Walch, James B. Price, Joseph Cochran and J. M. Brady.

Against Thomas J. Brady, receiving money while Second Assistant Postmaster-General for services rendered in relation to a contract with the United States. The same witnesses are named in the two indictments. The ents, except in the names of the persons indicted and a few miner points, are much alike. Beginning with a legal definition of the duties of the Second Assistant Postmaster-General, the indictments state that Brudy entered into a contract with Price for the performance of service on the Star Routes, from San Antonio to Cor pus Christi, Tex., and from Monroe to Shreveport, La.; and that on July 17, 1879, at the sellcitation of Kellogg. Brasily made an order reducing the time for carrying the mail on these routes, and allowing Price extra compention therefor, receiving in return five sep rate amounts of $1,500 each. Kellogg is charged with having received five instalments of $1,500 each to lawful money as of $1.500 each. Kellegg is charged with naving received five instalments of $1.500 each in lawful money as a consideration for using his influence (while in the United States Senate) with Erroy to secure the expedition of the routes accritioned. Mr. Ker gives the following statement of what the Government counsel believe to be the tacts in the case:

Price had attempted, without success, to get an allowance for expedition on these two routes. He then took the papers to Kellogg and promised to give him $20,000 in he would orecure expedition of the routes. Kellogg told him to leave the papers and to call in two days. At the appointed time Price returned and Kellogg told him that it was all right; that expectition would be granted. Price theremon sat down and drew five drafts upon this Anditor of the Treasury for $15,000 acainst his pay for service on the San Antonio and Shreepoor routes. For the remaining $5,000 he gave a note independ by another mail contractor witch was paid at maturity. The drafts were to be paid on April 19, July 14 and Ontober 18, 1850, and January 14 and April 27, 1881. Kettogg save them to Walsh and requested him to collect them; pay him (Ketlogg) $1,500 for each draft, and creoit, rady who owe dimoney to Walsh) with the same amount, Walsh collection of each draft paid Ketlogg $1,500 and credited Brady with $1,500.

In answer to the objection that the offence ended with the passage of the drafts, and that prosecution was, therefore, barred by the Statute of Limitations, Mr. Ker says that payment of the drafts might have been stopped by the contractor at any time before man it they had no real money value until cashed. The first of the five drafts was paid April 19, 1880, and fit the indictment had not been returned to day could not have been made the basis of prosecution, as the Statute of Limitations would have begun to run against the offence to-marrow.

WHAT KELLOGG SAY3.

Regarding the indictment found to day, Mr. Kellogg

WHAT KELLOGG SAYS. said this evening that he was informed by the prosecu-tion two weeks ago that he could leave the city, and that when any indictment was returned he could appear to any grouple or inconvenience. He preferred, however, to remain in the city until the matter was finally disposed of. The presentment was made on March 27, and speci-fied the alleged offence as having been committed on April 17, 1880, although whatever evidence there was in the case showed the offence, if any, was really commit-ted upon April 16, 1879. Yesterday was April 17, when, even by the terms of the presentment, the alleged offence became barred, and no indictiment baving been returned, he was naturally surprised, nor can he now understand why to-day an indictment, should have been brought in.

He declines to say anything more at the present time in regard to the case except that he believes this proceeding was instituted mainly with the view of affecting the penning trial, and while he feels aggreved that a proceeding of this kind should have been instituted upon such evidence, given by a man who is personally hostile to him, and who has been pursuing the torsees than a very and for reasons that will

MISS REBECCA MC LEAN ON THE STAND. HER RECONCILIATION WITH BERNHARD BARWICH-NOT CERTAIN WHO KISSED FIRST.

The hearing in the suit for breach of promise of marriage brought by Bernhard H. Barwich, of this city, against Miss Rebecca McLean, of Stapleton, S. I., ned yesterday before Referre John Croah, at No. 229 Broadway, in the presence of a large number of spectators. That the vexatious delays of the last week have been highly beneficial to Mr. Barwich was proved by the improvement in his appearance. He has grown stouter since the last hearing, and he has recovered a part of the lustre that they possessed when he won the heart of his fair but fickle sweetheart in the long summer days of 1882. Miss McLean, who was accompanied by her friend, Mrs. Taylor, had an air of uplacent indifference and hid the smiles and blushes into which she was occasionally forced in the roses that she wore on her dress.

It was expected that the counsel for the plaintiff would offer some additional evidence, but instead, he de-clared that he had closed his case. B. Doran Killian, the defendant's counsel, thereupon made a motion to dismiss the complaint, upon the grounds that the plaintiff had not shown sufficient facts onstriute a cause of action, and that to a dismissal. "The plaintiff," he said, "has rushed into the maelstrom of hurry that infects our country and has begin his action too seen. Upon his own testimony Miss McLean, after the reconciliation, promised to marry him in May. Perhaps she may be willing to marry him when the time comes. Who knows f An engagement merely grants a more p-riceted privilege to enjoy the lover's rights. Two dozen love-scrapes The plainsiff's coupsel quoted anthorities to show that fulfilment of a contract, if one of the parties "The defendant," he said, "broke the en-gagement on the Sunday night, and then again it was renewed. She is much ahead of the plaintiff in brains, and she is much smarter than he is; but she has wiffully and maliciously broken this engagement. The plaintiff's conduct in taking this action is honorable, and it is much more sensible than that he should have attempted to take her life or to have committed suicide." After some further discussion between the counsel it was agreed for the plaintiff that all testimony as to what had occurred subsequent to January 31 should be withdrawn. Then the referee decided that he could not entertain the motion to dismiss. Mr. Kilhan, for the deace, after a few introductory remarks, called Miss fence, after a few introductory remarks, called Miss Melsan. As she stood up to take the oath all eyes were fixed upon her, and there was a general effort on the part of those present to improve their position for seeing and hearing. Miss Melsan's face flushed a little, but she did not seem to be in the least degree discomposed. Here yes flashed defaulty apon all within range of her vision, and she gave her testimony in a clear, firm voice, although the spoke in a low tone. Barwich steed up, with one foot on a chair, and eyed her closely. Occasionally he would not his head in approval, or sinke it vigorously in disapproval of what Miss Melsan said, to the amusement of the spectators.

of whom he had insulted, and if he wouldn't monopolize so much of my society. Then we both kissed. I can't say exactly who kissed first, but we both kissed. He said that he was jealous, and I promised that my friends should not trouble him any longer. When he left me he said he would bring back the ring on Wednesday, offering to give it to me in friendship. I said: 'No; I never accept a ring from a gentleman in friendship.'"

MRS. FOX SEEKS A LARGER ALLOWANCE. A motion was argued yesterday in the suit reently begun by Mrs. Emma K. Fox against her hus-band, Richard K. Fox, the proprietor of The Police Gazette, for an absolute divorce, for an order directing the defendant to pay Mrs. Fox a larger amount of temperary allmony than he is now paying her and for an order in regard to the enstedy of the children. E. F. Watson, the attorney for Mrs. Fox, stated that the defendant had an income of over $100,000 a year, and that he was admitted to have been guilty of infidelity. The

he was admitted to have been guilty of infidelity. The counsel in the case hat agreed in the beginning of the sait to a weekly allowance of $35. This Mr. Fox and not paid regularly, and he was invisiting his wealth on a bad woman. This small sum was insufficient for the support of Mrs. Fox, who had to take care of an infant child.

Justice Barrett sait that as the whole matter was now pending before a refere, and as Mrs. Fox had agreed to take $35 a week, he would not for the pre-ent interfere with the sipalistion. In regard to the custody of the children, he said test both Mrs and Mr. Fox, reading the suit, should be allowed to see them whenever they chuse, but that no other person, except upon the written consent of both parents, could do so. The children are now at different Catholic schools. Mrs. Fox is a Protestant.

STANLEY'S CONGO EXPEDITION.

Brussels letter to The London Standard.

The debug tere of M. de Brazza with his expedition to the Congo, has, if possible, increased the great interest which is always felt here in all that pertains to the exploration and civilization of Central Alrea. The latest correspondence received in Brussels from the Congo is dated from the middle of December. Mr. Statiley had already arrived on the coast, and had gone up the river as far as Vivi, the first of the stations founded by the Association Internationale Africame. His party had been strengthened by two hundred and twenty-three natives of Zanzibar, who had just arrived, under the guidance of the Belgian Capitali de Cambber, the successful founder, in 1870, of Karema, the first station and habitation of white men on the great Lake Tanganyika. The negroes of the West Const are so slothful and untrustworthy that Mr. Stanley, who made his first great journey across the continent with an escort, of Zanzibaris, has ever since relied upon the assistance of these people in all Mr more arduous labors, and several hundreds of them have, at great expense, been transported to the Couge by the Association Internationale. At Vivi, the letters state that great preparations were being made for the construction of a railway between the station and the landing stage on the river. The difficulties of transport in this country, where there are no four-footed beasts of burden, are simply enormous. To scene a healthy locality the station of Vivi was established on an einfinence, as some little distance, about three-quarters of a mile from the river, and as it is the great deput for the stores and material of the Expedition, it is proposed to connect it with the water by a small portable framway on De Canville's system. The following stations have now been sent cout to the Congo, and of these three were hundred miles from the mouth of the Congo, has only just been founded, and was reached by the steamers have been sent out to the Congo, and of these three were already affort last Bec

MINES AND MINING.

Dulness and further general depression in values are the continuous features of the mining stock markets. To-day Alta Montaua, which once sold above $2, was fairly active at 7@4 cents. Gold Strice-a dividend payer once-sold at 10 cents, and Cherokee-one of the once brilliant promises of Plumas County, Col.—sold at 2 cents per share. Sonora Consolidated was dull, but it again sold up to 1.55 $\varphi$1.50 and back to 1.35. Hall-Anderson after 1.50 sold back to 1.65, and Robinson was dull

THE PETROLEUM MARKET.

NEW-YORK, April 18. Another record of dull and discouraging mainess was made at the Petroleum Exchanges to-day. News was received tout the Vensel, a test-well several tofles southwest of the Cooper tract, was absolutely dry. failed to respond to deeper drilling, after the misera-ble showing of sixty-four barrels for sixteen hours before the drilling. It would naturally be supposed that this news would encourage traders, and it did so to the extent of callying prices in the morning from 93% to 95%. The afternoon, however, witnessed a decline to 93% 293%. There has been an increase in the pipe line runs recently to a daily average of 65,740 the pipe line runs recently to a daily average of 65,740 barrels from April 1 to 16, while the average daily deliveries have fallen off to 60,856, showing an average daily excess of production of nearly 5,000 barrels. The inverse of off into the pipes has been to rense i within the last lew days, and it is said to be the result of a rivalry between the United Pipe Lines and the Tide Water Pipe Line, pending the proposed extension of the latter's lines into Allerheny County, Penn. The market closed unsettled and dail.

FEATURES OF THE CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, April 18 .- Reports were received to-day from Kansas adnouncing that the chinch bugs and was the last feather to break the courage of some of the "shorts," Leopold Bloom, for instance, covered a quence. Except McGeoch and Lester, all the big traders, who are at present in the market on a large scale, are buyers of wheat. McGeom's partners keep on selling, whether for their senior or for customers nobody knows and nobolv especially cares. As a seller of wheat, especially of the coming crop wheat, he is not a bit dreaded. If there is any greater "bear" on wheat in this market than McGe,ch, it must be Lester. Ira Holmes, who probably got his low priced rotions from the latter, has succumbed. He covered a day or so ago and declares himself "evened up and disint rested"; but with Lester it is a matter of profe. "Boo" Parks and Nichols vie with Quinlan and Lester for the erea u of the Wail Street trade. Parks has his customers buying and Lester has influenced his customers to sell. If such a thing is possible, the latter will break down the price of alley and between the regular and "call" seastors. After forcing the May option down to 103%, the "bears" could not hold it there. There appears to be some con-cert of action on the part of certain prominent houses in buying for May. Parks is probably scalpling this option; for the purchases for May are mostly by houses identified with him. Kershaw, and the other rich "bull" commission houses, are buying less for May than for wheat and corn; but this does not seem to be an easy commission houses, are buying less for May than for June and July. The latter option is becoming the favorite, and in another fortnight will be attracting the favorite, and in another fortnight will be attracting the favorite, and in another fortnight will be attracting the favorite, and in another fortnight will be attracting the favorite at 1117s, after having touched 1125s. The closed is 4c, above last night's.

Corn was dull and a fraction lower, closing on the "cail" at 353g, for flay, but a few minutes later, on the curb, selling as 544c. The receipts continue to fail of gr atly. To-day only 83 cars of corn and 23 of wheat twee inspected. The sales on the "cail" word: Wheat, 1,020,000 bushels; corn, 610,000 bushels.

Provisions continue to go hikher La d and short ribs to aight close 5 of loc., and perc 75 of 10c. algeer than twenty-four hours ago. The stronges traders are buying. Armour appears to be buying and, and the brokers with sating for the great provision operators. The receipts of hogs do not increase at all, and are not above half of what the average receipts should be. To-day only 9,500 were reported received at the stock varies, and one-turd of these were shipped east. No effort will be mails to discipline the Armour denalliers until Judge Gardner has granted or refused a stay for the purpose of an application for a reheared before the Supreme Court. The matter comes of oa Friday.
